Update on 2016 Employee Survey District Actions
Mark Simon, Chief of Staff said a very extensive survey of SamTrans employees was conducted. A number of questions to what SamTrans can do near-term to make employees feel better about working here were provided in the survey. SamTrans established five District actions and two actions by the Human Resources department. The following are referenced in the quarterly update and are identified as constant:

1) Classification Pay Practices, Compensation, Performance Management and Benefits Study
Mr. Simon said SamTrans completed a market survey on salary, health and retirement benefits and pay practices throughout the region and throughout the country and finalized a Performance Management strategy.
Mr. Simon said overall recommendations for the District is being finalized. The draft report will be presented to the Executive Team and a separate session with the consultant, to help SamTrans understand how to interpret this information. He said SamTrans will be discussing in-depth on how to report out on them to our employees and how to roll out these new programs.

2) Rewards and Recognition Program
- How to think about rewards and recognition
- How to conduct themselves
- Foundation of an understanding of the purpose of the program
- How to create an atmosphere in which people are looking for opportunities, to express their appreciation to one another, and to other colleagues
- A peer-to-peer recognition program

3) Strengthen Inter-departmental Collaboration
The program was delayed due the person responsible for this task leaving the agency. In the meantime a meeting has been organized with staff at the Directors level. One of the elements is to address information flow. This team will be meeting within the next several weeks. SamTrans continues to provide training on communicating effectively.

4) Increase Employee Development Opportunities
SamTrans is hosting in November the San Mateo County Supervisor Academy for 35 public employee agencies, including six full-time employees from SamTrans.
Mr. Simon said we will be hosting an Introduction to Supervision for County of San Mateo.

5) Improve Employee Communications and Feedback
New employees have been hired in Communications with key responsibilities to strengthen inter-departmental collaboration. In addition, there have been several ongoing activities – quarterly Town Hall meetings, the next one October 19 at North Base, regular Messages from Jim and monthly Coffees with Jim in which he meets with employees one-on-one at each of our facilities.
Human Resources Action 1 - Develop a Robust Onboarding Program
Bob Greenleaf, one of the key people in this area, is a member of a Workforce Development Group that focuses on this and has had several conversations about how to conduct themselves using best practices for onboarding. Under review is an onboarding technology software SamTrans hopes to have as part of the budget request for the upcoming fiscal year.

Human Resources Action 2 - Develop a SamTrans Leader Program
This Next Generation Leadership Program proposal has been submitted to the series of pilots they are going to roll out in November and December. Several people will be selected to take the training.

Chair Guilbault thanked Mr. Simon and said that it is really great from where SamTrans was last year. She said she knows SamTrans has received a lot of feedback from employees on the employee surveys and this is a good response toward the comments. Mr. Simon said it was a team effort.

Customer Service Week
Mr. Hartnett announced the first week of October is Customer Service Week. He said the daily efforts by SamTrans front-line employees providing courteous and trustworthy service to our customers is always worth celebrating and especially during this week. The 2017 customer service week campaign theme is Building Trust.

Update on the Flitch Rating System
Mr. Hartnett said a new rating system with new rating criteria was established in June 2017. Mr. Hartnett said based on this criterion rating, SamTrans rated AA. SamTrans was previously rated at AA+. The AA rating reflects the District’s strong operating performance, its limited long-term liabilities and the view of the Fitch rating service. This does not affect our current debt and those rates will not change.

Mr. Hartnett said the Peninsula Corridor Joint Powers (JPB) debt rating, which is different, is independently rated and was lowered due to the cash position of the JPB.
